With your group, study and palpate the muscles you have been assigned using the Trail Guide and any other resources that you find useful. On Monday, you will have up to 8 minutes to teach the class the key features of your muscle group. Think about what material you want to present (which may not be every muscle that you studied) how you can best explain these key ideas. Do you want to lead the class in palpation? Do a demonstration? Share drawings? Show muscles on the skeleton...
